

Prepare to get your boots on the ground in the far west!

Some amazing field trips will be one of the real highlights of the 2019 NSW Landcare and Local Land Services conference as delegates head out into the landscapes in the iconic far west!

Delegates will be transported to one of four unique field trips, all which have their own appeal - you can choose which field trip you attend when you register. There is set capacity with each field trip so to avoid missing out on the field trip of your choice it is best to register early.

The Living Desert and Sculptures

Within the Living Desert Reserve lies 12 sandstone artworks, each telling their own story. These artworks highlight the skyline around them and were completed in 1993 by artists from around the world.

Anyone who attends this field trip will have a guided tour of these beautiful sculptures with Badger Bates, one of the artists who contributed to the project. Badger is a local artist and respected Barkandji elder who will speak about the history of both the sculptures and local Aboriginal people.

Broken Hill Art Gallery

The second part of this field trip will involve a guided tour of the Broken Hill Art Gallery, which is the oldest regional art gallery in NSW.

It was opened in 1904, and relocated to its current location in 2004. The tour will include an overall tour and a behind the scenes look at the gallery and its history.

Select your field trip when you register

Visit the conference website and when you register select your field trip of choice < www.nswlandcareconference.com.au >. The website also has all the registration options and general information for delegates.
